NATIONAL MEDICAL INFORMATION NETWORK

National Medical Information Network (NMIN) was originally formed to facilitate the individual's organization and access of personal medical information. The network utilizes a web interface for access anytime from anyplace in the world. This data-driven access has been developed both for individuals with medical conditions as well as those who enjoy good health. NMIN provides secure, dependable access to medical information for personal use and for healthcare providers as needed for routine or emergency care. The line of MedStat products has grown to facilitate children, pets and even horses. All MedStat programs are within what NMIN refers to as the Emergency Information System, a group of products that depend on the individual's input of knowledge and medical records.

MedStat Group™

Having medical information at hand can help residents get the best routine and emergency care and make records easily accessible by your administration team.

MedStat Group™ is the web-based tool for administering medical records and helping residents get proper and immediate medical attention.

MedStat Group is a way to organize and access your residents' complete medical data on the web. Having that immediate access to the vital details can mean the minutes or seconds that are the difference between life and death.

Why MedStat Group?

- Access Medical Records Online 24/7/365 and edit, print or email as needed.
- Generate a resident's hospital admission form with ease.
- Emergency USB Life Key available for residents when they travel or see their physician.
- Upload important medical documents in PDF or JPG formats.
- Expedite your residents' routine and emergency medical care.

Accessing Online Reports

Simply visit www.MedStatGroup.com and log in to access your online information. For safety, existing HIPAA compliant personal health information is view-only with the option to add notes or documents related to current visits.

Residents Are Prepared for Emergencies and Routine Visits

As the administrator, you can share the website and temporary emergency login name and password with emergency medical personnel. With it they can access the resident's information in order to provide the most immediate and thorough response. Vital information, such as blood type, list of prescriptions, health history, patient charts, and insurance can assist caregivers with making sound medical decisions. To remain secure, once the event has passed, you can enter the site and remove the emergency login. It will automatically be disabled after a period of time, making sure no unauthorized access is possible in the future.

Emergency USB Life Key

The reusable MedStat Group Emergency USB Life Key is easily programmed through the website for any resident and can be offered on an as-needed basis. When inserted into a computer, the USB Life Key gives medical providers access to the resident's basic medical information. With a temporary login and password, they can also view, print or email the resident's additional, secured online information.
